

Elisa Chisari, UU, DRSTP PhD School 2025

Forecasting techniques for cosmology and beyond

Abstract:

How do you obtain best fit parameters from a data set? And how do you forecast what the constraining power of a thought experiment will be? In this lecture, we will answer these questions from the point of view of Bayesian statistics, including the necessary mathematical background. Examples from cosmology will be used to illustrate the topic.